The Program on Corporate Governance seeks to contribute to policy, public discourse, and education in the field of corporate governance. It seeks to advance this mission in two inter-related ways:

- Bridging the gap between academia and practice: The Program seeks to foster interaction between the worlds of academia and practice that will enrich both. Such interaction enables academic researchers to better understand the issues and the environment facing practitioners, thereby facilitating research that will be more relevant for practice. Interaction between academia and practice also keeps public and private decision-makers better informed about research activities in corporate governance, and enhances the public discourse on corporate governance.

- Fostering policy-relevant research: The Program fosters empirical and policy research that sheds light on corporate governance questions facing public and private decision-makers. By providing relevant research that is grounded in the best methods of academic research, such projects can have an important impact on decision-making and public discourse in the field.

During 2017-18, the Program’s director was Professor Lucian Bebchuk, and other Harvard Law School faculty members contributing to its activities were Robert Clark, John Coates, Alma Cohen, Allen Ferrell, Jesse Fried, Oliver Hart, Howell Jackson, Reinier Kraakman, Mark Ramseyer, Mark Roe, Robert Sitkoff, Holger Spamann, Leo Strine, Jr., and Guhan Subramanian.

During 2017-18, the following individuals served on the Program’s advisory board: William Ackman, Peter Atkins, Allison Bennington, Richard Brand, Daniel Burch, Jesse Cohn, Joan Conley, Isaac Corré, Arthur B. Crozier, Ariel Deckelbaum, Deborah DeHaas, John Finley, Stephen Fraidin, Byron S. Georgiou, Joseph Hall, Jason M. Halper, Paul Hilal, Carl Icahn, Jack B. Jacobs,
